Assessments are delivered with a results-driven methodology to evaluate the effectiveness and alignment of current technology with an organization's strategic goals. Assessments consist of in-depth data collection, analysis, stakeholder engagement and feedback, and the delivery of strategic recommendations by the assessment team.

Typical Use Cases

- An institution wishes to evaluate the capabilities of its existing network infrastructure in order to plan for an upgrade to serve a growing student population
- An institution wishes to evaluate whether its current suite of software solutions meets the needs of various administrative functions
